Armed raid on newly opened pizza parlour

STAFF at a newly opened take-away have described the terrifying moment when a knife-wielding robber stormed into their kitchen and demanded cash.

Employees at Domino's Pizza, in Apple Acre Road, Haverhill, were closing up on Sunday evening when a man began banging on their front window, demanding that they order a taxi for him.

When staff went outside to talk to him, the man barged his way into the takeaway's kitchen and then into the office, where the manager was counting the day's takings.

He then produced a large kitchen knife and demanded the staff hand over the cash before he fled from the scene with a woman.

One of the store's managers Sam Irons, 18, said: "He was banging on the window trying to get my attention and one of us went outside to see what he wanted.

"We rang him a taxi, but they rang back saying it would be delayed. One of us went outside to tell him what was happening, but he then appeared in the kitchen holding a knife.

"It was a pretty large kitchen knife and he was shouting 'Where's my taxi?'"

"I wasn't afraid as I was standing behind a counter, but I was anxious for my colleagues who were right next to him.

"He went into the office, where our manager was cashing up, and told him to hand it over.

"There was also a girl outside with him – she sounded like she was crying and they had been shouting at each other earlier.

"It's annoying that some people think they can do this. There are other ways to get money – like getting a job like most people."

The raid comes just three weeks after the Domino's outlet opened for business.

Walkers put best feet forward to aid appeal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A WALKING CLUB which has been on the road for almost three decades has handed over £150 to the Haverhill Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

And energetic souls who want to start working off some of their festive excesses can join members of the HAVAC Walkers Club, who will be holding their first event of 2009, leaving from the Health Centre car park in Coles Lane, Linton, on Sunday starting at 9am.

Carol Hurrell, walks organiser for the club, visited the Weekly News Office in Queen Street and handed over a cheque to Ian Norris, fundraiser for the hospice.

Carol said that although HAVAC is quite a small group with limited funds, members had decided to make a donation to the Weekly News appeal because they thought it was such a worthwhile cause.

She said: "You have done fantastically well with your appeal.

"The hospice services are something everybody might need at some time. We have not got that much to give, but perhaps it will encourage others to do the same."

And she extended a warm welcome to would-be walkers who were keen to kick off the new year with a ramble, adding: "We hope this will also help let people know that we are there, and we might get some to join us."

"We do 10km and 20km walks and we usually start and finish at a pub car park where people can get a map and walk at their own pace."

As well as fresh air, walkers can enjoy the stunning winter scenery too, as Carol explains: "Our last walk started at Haughley and we do some in the Fens, there is some beautiful countryside around here to enjoy. We have people of all ages, some of them in their 70s, and it does help keep you fit."

Ian Norris said: "The club has supported us in the past and it is really nice of them to support us again."

Anyone interested in joining the club can call (01440) 762198.

Branch out with old trees

THOSE keen to turn over a new leaf with their old Christmas trees can compost them. St Edmundsbury Borough Council is providing facilities to keep real trees out of landfill, where they can release methane gas which contributes to climate change. Residents can cut up relatively small trees and put the pieces into their brown bins, so long as there is enough room for the lid to close. Bigger trees can be taken to any of the three Household Waste Recycling Centres in the borough, including Coupals Close, Haverhill. Additional recycling points are also being set up at East Town Park, Haverhill, until January 14. All trees will be collected by the council and taken to the composting facility at Lackford.

Man accused of fake notes

A HAVERHILL man has appeared at Ipswich Crown Court to deny an offence of making counterfeit banknotes. Ricky Stuart, 44, pleaded not guilty to the offence alleged to have occurred between January 1 and June 28 last year.

The prosecution alleges Stuart, of Arundel Road, had produced the notes with the intention of either himself or someone else tendering them. Judge John Devaux extended unconditional bail for Stuart until his trial, due to take place in mid-January.

First steps to dance craze

TICKETS are now on sale for a Lindy Hop dance workshop. Led by the Cal'donias Swing Dance Society, this introductory Lindy Hop workshop at the Haverhill Arts Centre will teach the basic steps of the 1930s and 1940s dance craze. It is aimed at complete beginners or those with little experience. To book tickets for this event, which takes place on Sunday, March 14, from 11am, call (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fundraising discos, quizzes, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, then why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause?

An online donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhill weeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate to the appeal by text, and you can also pledge funds by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office.

Six vehicles attacked in night of thefts

SIX vehicles were broken into by callous thieves in Haverhill who ransacked their contents and then stole items in the run up to Christmas.

The criminals struck along Greenfields Way, Clarendon Road, Harewood Terrace, Ixworth Road and Ladygate between 3pm on Monday, December 15, and 12.40pm the next day.

They broke into the vehicles and stole various items including a sat nav system, power tools and a palmtop computer.

Police said a man was also seen loitering suspiciously around vehicles on Clarendon Road at around 1.30am on Tuesday, December 16, but when he saw an occupant of a nearby house spot him through a window he ran off.

He is described as white, around 5 ft 9 ins tall, of a slim build and was wearing a dark green baseball cap, a black hooded top with the hood up and light coloured jeans.

Anyone with any information about the thefts should call Pc Matthew Dale at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

An exciting year ends with more change to come

LAST year began on a sad note with the death of Mayor Ted Trebble in January. The attendance at his funeral showed the respect the town had for him. But 2008 has been an exciting year for Haverhill and its residents with the completion of the Jubilee Walk programme the opening of the multi-screen cinema complex with its restaurants,

A New Year message from the Mayor of Haverhill, Councillor Les Ager which has brought a much needed facility to the town and district.

Events organised by Haverhill Town Council: the Big Bash, the summer concerts on the Market Square and more recently the three-day

Christmas event have proved very popular and have been well supported.

Events to look forward to in 2009 include the opening of the newly refurbished leisure centre and work which has already commenced on the new Tesco site. Major commercial businesses have also continued to expand in the town.

For me personally I am very much enjoying my term of office as town mayor. I have accepted invitations to more than 100 functions, including a garden party at Buckingham Palace, attending many events with local schools, supporting local charity events and representing Haverhill at events in other towns. I have been overwhelmed by the friendship extended to me and many have remarked that it is nice to have a 'local old boy' as mayor. On behalf of myself and fellow town councillors and officials I wish everyone a Happy New Year.

Taking their leave for a diamond day

A COUPLE who married when rationing was still in force and had to use food coupons for their wedding cake are celebrating their diamond wedding anniversary.

Irene Reader, 79, and husband Cliff, 84, of North Avenue, Haverhill, reached 60 years of marriage on December 27, but plan to hold their proper celebrations in the New Year.

Mrs Reader said that the date between Christmas and New Year was not a good time to organise an event, but they originally got married then because they had no annual leave left. They met when Mr Reader was employed at the town's Atterton and Ellis shop. Mrs Reader said: "In those days we only had seven days holiday from work and we had already had a holiday that year."

"We got married on the Monday and had to go back to work on the Thursday, because we only had those few days off. It didn't matter though, we had a lovely day, and there was snow on the ground.

"There was still rationing and we had to build up extra food coupons for our cake, which was made at the Ellis Bakery.

"Fabric was hard to get hold of and my mother-in-law made my wedding dress. I'm not sure what the secret is to a happy marriage, give and take I suppose."

The couple have a daughter Joan and son Stephen, as well as four grandchildren.

Mr Reader was awarded the Freedom of Haverhill earlier this year for his army service in the Far East and for 22 years as a retained fire fighter in the town. Mrs Reader spent 25 years working at Clements Primary School, most as school secretary.

When she refused, he got out of the vehicle and took hold of her wrist. She then ran off into Calford Drive.

Special arrival adds to girls' new year joy

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

TWO sisters with a rare genetic condition have been sharing their New Year celebrations with a new baby brother.

Both Ellena Badenoch, seven, and her four-year-old sister Georgia, were born with albinism, causing pale skin, white hair, severe short-sightedness and sensitivity to light.

Ellena has 3/60 vision – which means she needs to be three metres from an object to see it with the same clarity as someone else 60 metres from it.

But both girls have delighted their parents, Tim and Charlotte, with their ability to cope with their condition and flourish. And now the family, of Tiberius Close, Haverhill, has a new member – five-month-old brother Frazer – who does not have albinism.

The girls were featured in the Weekly News a year ago to try to increase understanding of their condition and Charlotte said that since then the family had gone from strength to strength.

Earlier this year they visited Disney-world in Florida and Ellena, who is registered blind, was lucky enough to swim with dolphins with her dad.

Mrs Badenoch said: "We had loads of people come up to us after they were in the paper."

"There has been no bullying and one boy sent Ellena a Christmas card and said he had written it especially big so that she could see it."

"They are both doing really well.

Ellena has just passed her 20 metres swimming test and has joined a ballet workshop at Hundon and has taken part in their Christmas performance."

Mrs Badenoch praised the support of Ellena's school, Coupsals, and Stradishall's Happy Days Nursery which Georgia attends.

"The school has been absolutely brilliant, and has got enlarged text books and anything she could possibly need. She has just got a lap-top and will learn to touch type, so that will be her way of working."

"She has difficulty catching a ball, but she has one with a bell, so that she can hear it before she sees it. She can do everything that other children can do, just slightly changed round."

The girls must also take more care in the sun, as their mum explained: "Because their skin has no pigment in it they have to wear factor 50 sun cream from March to October, or they just completely burn up."

"They are just normal, happy little girls, who are special, but just take everything in their stride."

The family gets support from the Albinism Fellowship, visit www.albinism.org.uk or call (01282) 771900.

£1,000 donation for town's food bank

A NEW food bank has got off to a flying start with a cash boost from a local housing group.

The Haverhill Food Bank team, which received a £1,000 grant from Haverbury Housing Partnership's Community Investment Fund, thanked the people of Haverhill for helping the project get off the ground so successfully.

Henry Wilson, project manager for Haverhill Food Bank, said: "We are so absolutely thrilled with the support from Haverbury. It is superb and we can't thank them enough. "We would also like to thank the people of Haverhill for their fantastic support – in particular at our first collection day at Sainsbury's recently, where we collected about 500kg of food."

The food bank helps to support families facing unexpected crises. For more information, telephone (01440) 712950.

Vehicles raided

TWO thefts from vehicles at Haverhill are being linked. Thieves broke into a blue Ford Escort van in Grenadier Road between 6pm on Saturday, December 21, and 7.30am the following day, and stole a drill. Thieves also broke into a grey Nissan Almera in Barnby Close between 7pm on the Saturday, and 6am on the Sunday, and stole a sat nav and a child's bag. Clothing from inside the car was found discarded nearby. Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Pc Ben Vann at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

A NEW exhibition will profile the lost buildings of Haverhill next week.

The Haverhill and District Local History Group will open an exhibition on the town's forgotten architecture in the Bistro Area of Haverhill Arts Centre, in High Street, on Thursday, January 8. For more details, call Kath Thomson on (01284) 757164.

Woolies brand disappears from the high street after almost 100 years.

More than 27,000 people nationwide will lose their jobs following the collapse of the firm, which had 807 stores.

Shopper Lyn Pembroke, 48, from Kedington, said: "It's terrible to see all the shelves looking so bare – it was such a British institution that I never thought I'd see it go."

"I bought some cheap DVDs and some Pick and Mix too, but only for old time's sake."

"I suppose Woolies couldn't keep up with the internet when it came to prices and people don't really buy singles in the shops anymore, which is how it got people through its doors."

Harry McClean, 22, of West Wrattling, added: "It's sad to see it go and I feel desperately sorry for all the staff, who are putting on a very brave face."

"But there isn't anything in here that I really want. I buy my DVDs from Amazon and my music off iTunes – I've bought a few sweets for my younger brother though."

"Once pound shops started offering the same things as Woolies for less, then the writing was on the wall."

Man fined for cannabis plants

AN UNEMPLOYED man who admitted growing 50 cannabis plants in his home has been made the subject of a community order for a year by magistrates and ordered to do 200 hours unpaid work.

Daniel Killian, 31, appeared before magistrates at Sudbury for sentencing, and was also ordered to pay £60 costs, a £50 fine and a £15 victim surcharge.

Magistrates ordered that the plants seized should all be destroyed.

At a previous hearing, Killian, of Millfields Way, Haverhill, admitted producing cannabis and a breach of the peace offence.

His case was adjourned so that a pre-sentence report could be made.

At the earlier hearing Rosalind Clark, prosecuting, said police visited Killian's flat and found a number of plants growing, with silver paper on the walls, as well as lights and heaters.

Hayley Carpenter, for Killian, said he was growing the cannabis for his own use to help him sleep, which he found difficulty after receiving a head injury in a car accident in 1995.

Baby boom on Twelfth Night

BY Raymond Brown

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A HAVERHILL woman was among a dozen mums to receive very special festive gifts this year after 12 babies were born at the Rosie Maternity Hospital on Christmas Day.

And to make it even more unforgettable, 10lb Haverhill baby Thomas Taylor who met his parents for the first time at 1.46am, shares his birthday with his dad.

Father, Stewart Taylor, a horticultural engineer, was given the surprise package as he celebrated his own 39th birthday.

New mum Jo O'Grady, 26, of Stanton Place, Haverhill, has plenty of experience dealing with tots as a nursery nurse at Cartwheels Children's Centre in the town.

She said: "I am so pleased that Thomas shares the same birthday as his dad. It has all been very exciting."

"I was worried to start with as he should have been born earlier but he took a bit longer – and that's how it ended up being Christmas Day."

"He is a very special gift. He's been so happy. I am delighted and very proud and Stewart is over the moon."

The first baby to make an appearance at the Cambridge hospital on Christmas Day was Alexander Cartwright who arrived at 12.06am and weighed in at 8lb 10oz.

New mum and marketing manager Sally Bee, 32, of The Green, Histon, was delighted with her special Christmas gift.

She said: "We haven't picked a middle name for him yet. It could be Balthazar, Joseph or Claus."

"He was due on the 21st but

I knew it would be just my luck he would decide to make his first appearance on Christmas Day.

"I am so pleased."

Proud dad Ewan, 39, a software developer, said: "We are just shell-shocked. It was tough and go for a while whether or not he would be a Christmas baby."

"The hospital was so busy with babies that they delayed inducing for a few days and only started the caesarean at 11.40pm on Christmas Eve. It has been worth the wait. He is just so beautiful."

Ward manager Annie West's staff have been busy over the festive season.

She said: "It's nice to have 12 babies born. That's a baby for every one of the 12 days of Christmas."

"It has been very busy but it's such great fun to work at Christmas and to help deliver a very special present."

Shake-up move angers leaders

BY Jack Grove

Email:
editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THREE council leaders have condemned a decision to throw out proposals for three unitary authorities in Suffolk in the long-awaited shake-up of the county's local government.

Geoffrey Jaggard of Forest Heath, John Griffiths of St Edmundsbury and Mark Bee of Waveney have written to the Boundary Committee for England (BCE) asking why it has not extended consultation on plans for three all-serving councils in the county – effectively dismissing their preferred option.

They believe plans for unitary authorities covering east Suffolk, west Suffolk and the Ipswich and Felixstowe area are preferable to the two-unitary option of an Ipswich and Felixstowe authority and a Suffolk rural council or the Suffolk County Council-backed One Suffolk option.

■ Geoffrey Jaggard.

In a written statement, the three council leaders said: "What clearer evidence could there be of an unjust process which, by not allowing all the options to be considered is clearly not giving local people a chance to have their say?"

"How can a process being used to determine the future local democratic structure for Suffolk do anything but alienate voters from the democratic process if, at the outset, it refuses them the opportunity of a full review of all the options?"

The trio added: "We are very angry and believe this is further evidence of a hugely flawed process.

"We remain certain that a three unitary structure would be the best way to deliver strong, effective and engaging local government.

"We call on the BCE once more to meet with us, listen to our proposals and afford us the same consideration that has been given to the unwieldy and undemocratic Suffolk option."

The BCE, which is in charge of the local government shake-up that will see the end of separate district and county councils, will deliver its recommendations to the Government on February 13 – six weeks after the initial deadline of December 31.

Secretary of State Hazel Blears will make her decision on the reorganisation by March 27 – six weeks later than expected after the Government asked for more time to consider the costs of scrapping the two-tiers systems in Suffolk and Norfolk.

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%).

The Net rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our Hallmark or 90 Day Notice monthly interest options.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Cash Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs), and Cash Child Trust Fund accounts, pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%). Tax assumptions are based on current legislation which may change in the future. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches. Cambridge Building Society complies with The Banking Code.

NOTICE TO EXISTING BORROWERS

With effect from 29th December 2008, the rate of interest for mortgages decreased by 0.99% per annum until further notice. The revised Standard Variable Rate is 4.00% p.a. The revised Variable Home Loan Rate is 4.00%. The rate for all our Tracker Mortgages has been reduced by 1%. The revised Commercial Base Rate, for non owner-occupied residential loans, is 5.59% p.a. Under the annual review system, this change of interest will be reflected in the revised monthly payments effective from March 2009. This notice does not apply to any mortgage account operated by interim review. Those borrowers will be notified separately.

Pupils make portrait for secretary's retirement

AFTER more than two decades of keeping a village primary school running smoothly its secretary, Lol Farr, is taking a well earned rest.

Mrs Farr retired from her job at Kedington Primary School after holding the post for 22 years and will be replaced by Rachel Darvill. Pupils from the Ketton Early Birds pre-school group presented her with a framed portrait of herself which they had created with milk bottle tops and other materials.

Earlier, Mrs Farr thought she was going to her last evening as a Ranger's leader, only to find a surprise party when she arrived at the school with four of the five headteachers who had worked with her present.

She was also presented with other gifts including gardening vouchers and a gold watch, before pupils sang special songs for her at a carol service in the nearby church.

Mrs Farr moved to Barton Grove, Kedington, from Kesgrave when she married husband Tony in 1971 and as he retired in March, the couple are looking forward to travelling together and are off to China in May. Mrs Farr said: "I have always loved village life and I have enjoyed working at the school. "I am going to miss all the staff and the children.

"I had a lovely week of surprises and even the headteacher who could not make it to the party phoned me from her home in Cornwall.

"I used to ring the old hand bell for the change of lessons and they had it all cleaned up, inscribed and presented to me."

Computing museum props up set for hit television comedy

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

VINTAGE computers are taking a star turn in a hit television comedy series.

The Centre for Computing History in Haverhill has been helping out The IT Crowd with set decoration after responding to a call for help with props.

The award-winning Channel 4 series follows the misadventures of three characters in the IT department of a fictitious London company.

Its writer, Graham Linehan, made a public appeal for props for the show's third run and the Centre for Computing History responded.

Vintage computers and related artefacts loaned by the centre were used as a key part of the set design of the office basement where main characters Moss and Roy, two technicians, are based.

The show's production team said they were grateful for the centre's help, adding: "We're more than happy to salute their genius."

Curator Jason Fitzpatrick said: "As a fan of the show, I thought it was a great chance to be involved and help populate the set with some true computing history.

"The number one item that I thought just had to be there was the Altair 8800 computer – widely considered the first commercial personal computer.

Kye Mackintosh-Smith, the set designer for the show, agreed and placed the machine carefully behind Moss's desk – a centre-point for the show.

Jason said: "They asked for 'a few feet' of books and manuals to leave around the set, so I searched through piles and piles of manuals to locate visually appealing or recognisable images.

"I found one particular folder that had neither of these characteristics but did have 'MOSS' in big grey letters down the spine. This just cried out to be featured. And it was!"

The Centre for Computing History received a big thank-you from the show's production team at Channel 4.

For more information about the centre's collections visit www.computinghistory.org.uk

Cottage garage plans agreed

APPROVAL has been given to a retrospective planning application for a garage adjoining a Grade 2 listed cottage in a conservation area.

Members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee agreed to let the building remain after carrying out a site inspection at 14a Church Street, Withersfield.

Withersfield Parish Council had objected saying what had been built was different to the previously approved plans.

Objections had also been received from neighbours.

The report to councillors said planning officers were satisfied that the amended proposal was acceptable and once completed would make a positive contribution to the conservation area.

Customer stabbed twice in pub row

A MAN was rushed to hospital after he was stabbed in the back twice in a town centre pub.

The man in his 30s was drinking in The Bull, in Camps Road, Haverhill, on Sunday evening, when he was involved in an altercation with another customer.

After an angry exchange of words, drinkers reported that the man was twice stabbed in the back before his attacker fled the popular town centre drinking hole.

The victim was rushed to Addenbrooke's Hospital, in Cambridge, where his injuries were at first said to be "serious".

However, he was released from hospital on Monday afternoon and is now recovering at home.

Police officers confirmed that they recovered a knife from the pub and are seeking a man in connection to the attack.

Detectives have also interviewed several witnesses to the attack, which took place just after 8.30pm.

Officers are, however, still keen to speak anyone who saw the stabbings or might have information about the attacker.

Anyone with any information is asked to call Haverhill CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

High Sheriff in search for heroes

COMMUNITY-minded citizens will be recognised in the New Year with the second High Sheriff's Awards.

Diana Hunt, the High Sheriff of Suffolk, is calling on people to nominate individuals, communities and voluntary groups for the prestigious awards, to be announced in March.

She said: "During the last year I have travelled throughout the county and have become aware of many individuals and groups of all ages who devote their time and energy, voluntarily, to improve the communities in which they live or work."

"The High Sheriff's annual awards, run by the Suffolk Foundation, seek to recognise these volunteers and

She added: "We're fortunate to live in Suffolk, a peaceful and largely prosperous county. However, there are less brilliant areas and it is here that often the most remarkable work is undertaken."

"Please help us to identify these groups and individuals whose unselfish efforts make such a difference"

There are awards for fighting crime, youth group and Suffolk volunteer of the year.

There is also a fund of up to £1,000 for any existing or new projects undertaken by eight to 25 year olds.

For more, visit www.suffolkfoundation.org.uk or call (01473) 734123.

Officers stopped a Volkswagen on the A1307 near the town and found a large amount of drugs – believed to be cocaine and heroin. A man and woman were arrested on suspicion of possessing Class A drugs with intent to supply after the car was searched, and another man was arrested on suspicion of possessing Class A drugs following the house raid.

Povey, of High Street, Stansfield, is alleged to have been at the wheel of a Porsche 944 sports car when it was involved in a collision with a Citroen Saxo car on May 5.

The woman who died was Jane Gatt, 44, who lived in the Haverhill area. She died in hospital following the accident on the A143, half a mile south of Highpoint Prison.

After Povey confirmed his name and entered a not guilty plea, Judge John Devaux told him that his trial would take place at the end of March. Until that hearing Povey has been released on unconditional bail.

Hospital in bid to improve training

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

IMPROVED training facilities are set to be introduced at West Suffolk Hospital after the trust board approved plans for a £450,000 extension to the education centre.

The new facility would house a lecture theatre capable of seating 120 people and would allow the hospital to train extra doctors and nurses every year.

The new building has been designed to provide a flexible space which, if necessary, could be divided into two smaller rooms, each accommodating 60 people.

If planning permission is granted, it is hoped the extension will be completed by January 2010.

The work will be paid for with money from a variety of sources, including nursing endowment funds and income generated by holding educational events at the centre.

Dr Roy Bannon, medical director at the trust, said: "This extension supports our continued commitment to education and learning and will further strengthen the excellent teaching partnerships we have in place with our local universities and colleges."

"At West Suffolk, we have a long tradition of investing in staff training, and we appoint many of our staff partially as a result of that reputation. We are confident that this new facility will give us even greater scope for training in the future."

More detailed designs for the extension will now be drawn up and a planning application will be submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

If permission is granted, it is hoped a tendering process to appoint a contractor will be completed by May, with work starting on site during the summer.

Taste of things to come during the next year

By Chris Havergal

WHATEVER your tastes, there's bound to be something to your liking going on in and around Cambridge during 2009. From big name bands, to top class theatre and renowned festivals, there's plenty to look forward to. And while tickets for some big events have already sold out, there's still time to get tickets for all those listed below.

Thursday, February 19, The Junction, Cambridge

One of the first big gigs of the year will be the visit of The View at the Junction in Cambridge. The Dundee four-piece are onto their second album, About Effortlessly, a rowdy follow-up to 2007's Hats Off To The Buskers.

Friday, February 20, Cambridge Corn Exchange

The Shockwaves NME Tour returns to Cambridge for another year, this time starring Scottish rockers Glasvegas, with support from Friendly Fires, White Lies, and Florence and the Machine. Previous acts on this tour have gone on to big things so it's worth bagging a ticket while there are still some left.

Friday, March 13, and Saturday, March 14, Cambridge Corn Exchange

Madcap comic Ross Noble rolls into town for another dose of his largely improvised and surreal routine. Look out for his version of 24's Jack Bauer escaping from a cell using a greasy goose.

Tuesday, March 31 – Saturday, April 4, Cambridge Arts Theatre

It's one of the most talked-about shows on the West End and Cambridge audiences will get a chance to see Emma Rice's production of Brief Encounter this Spring. The famous film, stage play, and the songs of Noel Coward are brought together to create this brand new production.

■ THREATENED ... there were fears last year's Strawberry Fair might have been the last.

Monday, April 6, Cambridge Corn Exchange

Lemar has come a long way since he started off on BBC show Fame Academy and he's stopping off in Cambridge on his pop journey. His fourth studio album, The Reason, is out now, and look out for favourites It's Not That Easy and Got Me Saying Ooh too.

Saturday, June 6, Midsummer Common, Cambridge

There were fears Strawberry Fair wouldn't go ahead in 2009 after families complained about last year's event, but it has escaped the axe to the joy of music lovers. Details are being kept under wraps but look forward to seven stages of music showcasing the best Cambridge has to offer.

■ MAKE A DATE ... last year's Cambridge Folk Festival was a great success.

Thursday, July 23, to Sunday, July 26, Abbots Ripton Hall

As it's name suggests, the Secret Garden Party is one of the best kept secrets in the music world, but it's getting bigger every year and 2009 looks set to be the biggest yet. The previous offering culminated in the burning of a boat while stylish vocalist Grace Jones came on stage, and organisers will be looking to top that this year.

Thursday, July 30, to Sunday, August 2, Cherry Hinton Hall

Cambridge Folk Festival will be back and organisers will have their work cut-out to beat last year's success. Just pray the weather stays dry ...

Films which will keep youngsters entertained

IF THE children are at a loose end now Christmas is done and dusted for another year take them along to Haverhill Arts Centre.

On Monday at 11am it is showing Igor (PG) which, with the voices of John Cusack, Steve Buscemi and John Cleese, is an hilarious twist on the classic monster movie. Igor is sick of being a lowly lab assistant with a Yes Master's degree and dreams of becoming a scientist.

When his cruel master kicks the bucket a week before the annual Evil Science Fair, Igor finally gets his chance. Bond is back. Quantum of Solace (12A), Daniel Craig's second outing as James Bond, is showing on Monday at 2.30pm and 7.45pm and Tuesday to Thursday at 7.45pm.

Betrayed by Vesper, his love interest in Casino Royale, 007 fights the urge to make his latest mission personal. Pursuing his determination to uncover the truth, Bond and M find out that the organisation that blackmailed Vesper is far more complex and dangerous than anyone had imagined.

Next week Kristin Scott Thomas is back on screen in Easy Virtue (PG), based on Noel Coward's play. Also starring are Jessica Biel, Colin Firth and Ben Barnes, in the story of a young Englishman falling head over heels in love with an impossibly glamorous American, who faces a less than warm reception when he returns to the family's stately pile.

Fords to get eco-gears

THE latest Ford ECONetic and Transit models light the way towards improved fuel economy via a "smart" gear change alert.

The gear-shift indicator in the instrument cluster of Ford Fiesta, Focus, Mondeo ECONetic and Transit diesels signals to drivers when to change gear at the optimum moment. Moving more swiftly through the gears reduces fuel consumption by avoiding unnecessarily high engine speed.

The system not only helps drivers cut fuel costs, but also enables them to reduce CO2 emissions and to decrease wear on engine and transmission components.

Tim Winstanley, Ford diesel powertrain manager, said: "Many drivers could improve their fuel economy significantly by changing gear earlier. The indicator provides drivers with a helpful aid to using less fuel and encourages a smoother driving style."

A shift indicator is fitted as standard to the Ford Fiesta ECONetic and Mondeo ECONetic models, and will be added to the Ford Focus ECONetic in early 2009. The feature is also on all Ford Transit and Transit Connect TDCi diesels.

The gear-shift indicator senses the way the vehicle is being driven, taking account of road gradient, vehicle load and individual driving style and identifies the most suitable gear change point.

The system continuously monitors data from the vehicle including engine speed, road speed, gear selected and throttle position to calculate optimum gear changes.

Using the gear-shift indicator helps drivers to maximise the fuel economy of Ford models, which are already among the most fuel efficient in their class. The Ford Fiesta ECONetic achieves a combined fuel consumption of 76.3mpg along with an ultra-low 98g/km CO2, making it exempt from UK road tax.

This year Ford ran a nation-wide Smart Driving Challenge using Focus ECONetics to promote techniques including early gear changes.

Fuel saved after deploying eco-driving tips equated to £325 per year for the average motorist, with drivers improving their miles per gallon by more than a third.

Nissan develops Note's strengths

FIRST seen at the 2008 Paris motor show, the Nissan Note has received a refresh, with changes inside and out as well as increased technology.

The Note is the first vehicle in the Nissan range to introduce 'Nissan Connect' – a 2DIN fully integrated audio and satellite navigation system. It uses a touch screen display for ease of use and a full digital music connectivity package with built in CD/radio, iPod gateway, aux-in (3.5mm jack), USB connection and Bluetooth streaming.

Outside, the front gets a new nose with a reshaped bonnet, bumper, streamlined headlights and a shiny black finish to the grille. Both 15 and 16-inch alloys are new designs for the Acenta and Tekna respectively. Move to the rear and the tail lights have been darkened for a more refined look plus the Tekna gets reversing sensors incorporated into the bumper.

The engine line-up continues with the proven reliability of the 1.4, 1.6 petrol and 1.5dCi power units. However, improvements to the emission levels have enabled the 1.5dCi to emit a CO2 level of just 119g/km and a pump-friendly 62.8mpg.

Despite the revisions, prices have been reduced, with the entry level Visia coming in at £450 less than the outgoing model. A 2009 Note can now be yours for as little as £9,795 on the road.

■ FORD... ECONetic and diesel Transit models benefit from new system.

Festive journeys 'unloved'

ALMOST 30 per cent of motorists would drive up to 100 miles to avoid staying with family and friends over Christmas, an AA/Populus survey has showed.

And nine per cent of men said they would take to the car to get away from an overnight stay with their in-laws, the poll of more than 7,000 motorists found.

As many as 11 per cent would drive more than 100 miles to avoid any unwanted family reunions, with men more prepared than women to make long journeys.

But 45 per cent of those polled said they preferred an overnight stay with family and friends rather than drive even relatively modest distances at Christmas.

■ NOT AN EASY TIME... if in doubt about festive journeys, it might be best to stay at home!

From this research the AA predicted that during this Christmas and New Year roads look like being fairly quiet, as in addition to the overnights, a further 16 per cent in the survey said they did not drive at all over the holiday season. The quietest day will be New Year's Day followed by Christmas Day.

AA president Edmund King said: "Some drivers seem determined to drive long distances to avoid staying with families or friends at Christmas. The old 'mother-in-law' joke may have some credence with nine per cent of males. As long as these drivers are not driven to drink this might be a sensible move.

"Almost one quarter of drivers will drive for more than 20 miles on Boxing Day but New Year's Day will be quiet with only 13 per cent saying they will be taking to the roads.

"A good proportion of those saying they would be out on the roads over Christmas and New Year are in the younger age groups. On New Year's Eve the survey found that 18 to 24 year olds are most likely to be on the road (22 per cent) which could pose safety concerns about potential drink/drug driving or distraction caused by a car full of reveller passengers."

Rovers slip to defeat in real thriller

■ AT THE DOUBLE... Neil Cogger, scorer of two Rovers' goals.

H A V E R H I L L Rovers were ultimately undone at Hamlet Croft on Saturday by a piece of individual brilliance from CRC youngster Adam Marriott in a pulsating match between two teams with very different outlooks and styles. For struggling Haverhill, all that matters at present is picking up points to pull away from the foot of the table, while CRC are all about performances and getting their young players prepared to step up into the Cambridge United first team.

Rovers have now gone five games without a win and are rooted firmly at the bottom, but, if they continue to attack as they did against the students, they may yet pull off a miraculous escape.

But boss Peter Betts is only too aware of the need to improve defensively.

"We've played one of the better teams in the league and scored four goals at home, but didn't even get a point," he said.

"Going forward we looked really good, but we have to tighten up at the back."

Betts also bemoaned the referee's decision not to award a free kick for what he thought was a foul on Neil Cogger deep in the CRC half.

From the ensuing counter-attack the visitors won a free kick of their own, from which Marriott scored a brilliant winner deep into stoppage time.

"A draw would have been a fair result," said Betts.

Jack Bailey put CRC in front early on but Martin Westcott levelled for Rovers.

Sam Ives and Bailey gave the visitors a two-goal cushion before Westcott reduced the deficit.

Owen Kessack scored in the second half to bring it back to 4-2, but a brace from Neil Cogger levelled the scores with just minutes remaining.

A draw looked likely, but Marriott's stoppage-time heroics ensured the points went to the students.

■ Haverhill's quest for Ridgeons League, Premier Division points continues on Saturday when the travel to Essex to take on a Stanway Rovers side who are currently occupying a mid-table position.

New deal keeping Town on the ball

CLARE Town's footballers have announced a two-year match ball sponsorship deal with The Kitchen Showroom, of Sudbury.

Town have settled well into their new pavilion, which has provided an excellent facility for the local community.

On the pitch, the club have made a mixed start to the season with both the Border League and Treadfirst League teams having a varied league campaign so far.

However, Clare are hoping to bring some trophies to the club this year, with some vital cup games coming up this month. Clare entertain Lowestoft team Ole Frank on Saturday in the fourth round of the Suffolk Primary Cup.

Their Treadfirst League team are also involved in two league cup quarter-finals in January.

■ SIGNED AND SEALED...
